directions, the respondent was directed to pay interest at the prescribed rate of interest i.e., 9.30 per cent per annum for every month of delay from the due date of possession i.e 09.04.2018 till handing over possession of allotted unit. Complainant was also asked to pay outstanding dues (if any), after adjustment of compensation for delayed period.

DH gave her calculation along with the execution petition. According to it, a total of Rs. 36,23,601 was due at the time of filing of execution petition.

During proceedings, on request made by learned counsel for decree holder, some bank accounts of JD were ordered to be attached, vide order of this forum dated 24.08.2022. A report has been received from ICICI bank as described earlier also. According to it, there is a balance of Rs. 2,638,038.79/- in the account of JD, with said bank. Learned counsel for DH requests for direction to manager of said bank, to release decretal amount in favour of his client, after debiting the same from the account of JD, mentioned above.

On the other hand, according to the learned counsel for JD, this forum cannot execute order/decreet under execution after passing of order by the High Court of Punjab and Haryana, Chandigarh, in case titled as M/s International Land Developers Pvt. Ltd. Vs. Aditi Chauhan and others CWP No. 7738 of 2022, and M/s International Land Developers Pvt. Ltd. Vs Nitin Mathur and others CWP No. 7750 of 2022. According to him, recovery certificate can only be issued to the collector, to recover decretal amount.

Learned counsel for DH refuted said contention, stating that as order has already been passed to attach said bank account, there is no reason now to issue recovery certificate.

I find weight in the plea of learned counsel for DH. Process for recovery of decretal amount has already been started and the matter has almost reached a conclusion. No reason to issue recovery certificate now. Request of learned counsel for DH is allowed. Let manager of ICICI bank, E-30 Saket, New Delhi-110017, be directed to remit ~~maximum of amount~~ as permitted by rules of bank from account of JD in favour of The Haryana Real
