the brother of the husband (Devar) and the main allegations prima facie seem to be against the husband and as the petitioner is already protected by the interim order passed by this Court, we deem it fit and proper to grant anticipatory bail to he petitioner. In case of arrest of petitioner, he may be released on bail on the terms and conditions that may be determined by the learned Trial Court. The Special Leave Petition stands disposed of.

Pending application(s) shall stand disposed of.

SLP(Cr1) No. 5280/2020

It is reported that now the Charge-sheet is filed. In that view of the matter, we dispose of the present Special Leave Petition and relegate the petitioner to file regular bail application before the concerned Court. Till then and so as to enable the petitioner to move an appropriate regular bail application before the learned Trial Court, the interim protection granted by this Court earlier vide order dated 05.11.2020 is extended for a further period of two weeks from today. The petitioner to apply for regular bail within that time, which may be considered in accordance with law and on its own merits and without in any way being influenced by the present order.

With this, the present Special Leave Petition stands disposed of.

Pending application(s) shall stand disposed of.
