O R D E R

In this case, regularization was directed to be considered and the incumbent, while appearing in the examination fell ill and ultimately died. The spirit of the order was to regularize. The High Court has passed the order in the peculiar facts of the case and particularly when an employee has died.

In the aforesaid circumstances, we are not inclined to interfere with the order passed by the High Court, since the facts and circumstances are peculiar in nature. However, the order of the High Court not to be treated as a precedent in any other case.

The time granted by the High Court is extended by four weeks from today to make compliance of the impugned order.

The special leave petition is accordingly dismissed. Pending applications stand disposed of.
